

The IT department of a group of hospitals located in the german-speaking part of Switzerland supports thousands of users and is responsible for the administration of thousands of PCs. The Department of Clinical Applications operates, develops and the supports the group's clinical IT systems. It is currently seeking a

Medical Computer Scientist

Tasks

- Supporting the electronic archive
- Building additional interfaces to the electronic archive
- Supporting users
- Updating the system documentation
- Assisting and supporting other application experts
- Participating in clinical application projects

Qualifications and Profile

- Computer Science or equivalent qualifications focusing on health applications
- Experience with building interfaces
- Familiarity with project leadership of small IT projects an advantage
- Self-motivated and target-oriented personality
- Customer focused and friendly individual
- German language level minimum requirements: B2

Offer

- Exciting opportunities in a rapidly changing hospital environment
- Motivated team and attractive working conditions
- Opportunity to define own areas of responsibility and work independently
- Excellent remuneration package
- Relocation support

Application and Inquiries

healthIT@academic-pool.com

T: + 30 69 700 55 605 (Greece)

T: + 49 (0)30 31 00 47 48 (Germany)

www.academic-pool.com